Dearest Folks.

At last I am getting ready for the homeward trip, the last leg of a long journey that seems never to end. But now I am ready to come, so I have done what seemed to be the right thing to do. I leave here either tomorrow or the next day, by way of Salt Lake City, the Denver & Rio Grande trip to Denver, where I shall spend one day, - and then on to Chicago!

I won't bother to write more than just this word to tell you how anxious I am to be home - and to send very much love
to proceed

your wandering - affectionate son

Melvin
